"Yesterday's executive board meeting arranged the final details," announced Vargas.

"We had excellent cooperation. No one shirked their duty."

Vargas added, "Stan White, the class advisor, was a tremendous help. We all want to thank him."

Semi-formal dress will be appropriate. The formal starts at 9 p.m. and lasts until 12 p.m. Admission is $2 per couple.

"Everyone is invited to attend. We are certain it will prove to be worthwhile," Vargas said.

decided Monday is not enough col- Starkey, ASB Dean Heiling, representative, voic- on that certain pep assemblies could do a lot to forward the spirit.

Carol Moore, ASB secretary, and Felix Vargas, freshman representative, dissented on the ground that they did not think in a college which the normal student attends two years that there would be any spirit.

Nevertheless, the ASB decided to form a committee to look into the matter and come up with a plausible solution.

SEVERAL OF the ASB officers voiced an objection to the "pits" in the parking lot. Starkey informed them that these were the speed traps they voted in. They contended that the "pits" were supposed to be mounds.

Wally Peterson wanted to know how much it cost the ASB to have the "speed traps" dug. Gary Starkey informed him that since the school district had done the construction it had cost nothing.

Jerry McLaughlin, athletic director, said that none of the clubs had turned in the average jacket sizes of their members in the last SAC meeting. ASB decided that if the clubs didn't turn the sizes in at the next meeting, the ASB would have to go ahead and order blazers with general sizes they had submitted.

Mormons Also to Construct Seminary for Students

By Chris Wrangham, Collegiate Staff Writer

Hopkins Construction Company of Pasco plans to build a co-ed dormitory to be located within walking distance of CBC.

John E. Lynch, Hopkins Construction vice president, said Wednesday that the two story dormitory would have 150 units. The location hasn't been selected from the several sites being considered, but the dormitory will be ready for occupation by the 1964 fall quarter.

THE DORMITORY'S facilities will be modern furniture, carpeting, reading and study facilities in a lounge, snack bar for short orders and recreation facilities.

Student boarding fees will be approximately $35 to $40.

Lynch said, "The dormitory manager would be part of a corporation, but we would like to see a student government formed within the dormitory by the residents. These people could work out any arising problems themselves."

The Mormon Church also plans to build a seminary for laymen across the street from campus. These will only be accessible to students of the Mormon faith.

THERE HAVE been many attempts in the past to build dormitories on and off-campus. The Presbyterian Church planned to build, but the Mission Board wouldn't finance the project. A group of local citizens planned to construct a dormitory, financed by shares in a co-op, but there apparently wasn't enough backing for that project.

Dormitories are allowed off-campus, but the school cannot collect fees or hold any jurisdiction over students living there because the school isn't allowed to take responsibilities for students when they are off-campus. The four-year schools are allowed jurisdiction over student dormitories because the buildings are on campus.

The dormitories being built will become motels for travelers and accommodations for conventions during the summer vacation.

Jerry Martin Chosen As CBC's Ugliest Man

Stan White, advisor of the Circle K club, disclosed the results of the Ugly Man contest last January 31.

The winner was Jerry Martin, who got 2100 votes. Second was Larry Krueger with 1800 votes. The votes were tabulated on the basis of a vote for every penny donated to the March of Dimes.

Mr. White said a total of about $51 was collected as a result of the contest. This money will be given to the March of Dimes Foundation.

Literary Edition Deadline Moved Up

The Collegiate editorial board has extended the submission deadline for the next literary edition to February 21.

Because of the enthusiasm shown by CBC authors, the board decided to award fifteen dollars to the author submitting the best manuscript. Second place is worth ten dollars and the third place author will receive five dollars.

"We'd rather fight than switch."

Vox Populi, Vox Dei . . .

Dear Editor:

The student body owes a debt of thanks to those responsible for bringing us the fine foreign films we have been enjoying for the past weeks.

Good taste has been shown in the diversity of films selected. Those interested are able to get an idea of the foreign film.

It has been heartening to see the many students drawn to the film showings. CBC has been in need of cultural activities, and it is hoped that this will open the door to more such campus activities.

Showing foreign films is expensive and it is surprising how long the ASB funds have been able to sustain these showings.

It is believed that there is a large enough audience for these films that the program could be supported completely by a small donation at each showing. Ten cents per person would strain no one's budget, and should adequately cover expenses. This plan deserves a try before the showings have to be stopped because of lack of funds.

Other colleges have found this plan works successfully.

Another way to defray the costs of showing would be book some old American silent films which rent for considerably less than current foreign films.

Many people would enjoy seeing some of the American classics, such as "Birth of a Nation," "Intolerance" and some of the Chaplin short films.

There has been talk that the foreign films will have to be discontinued because of lack of funds. This would be truly sad to see, because there is a dearth of worthwhile activities here at CBC. Considerable interest has been shown, and the student body deserves the right to show that there is enough interest to give these films monetary support.

Dale Long

Three young college men pooled their talents Saturday night at the Hideaway in Richland in what the local newspaper termed "the latest college craze."

A weight lifter and two grid-ders, with finesse reminiscent of Neanderthal days, completely demolished a piano with the aid of axes and sledge hammers. The truly worthy goal was to stuff the remains of the instrument through a six-inch hole. Of course, there was a tremendously exciting catch to the "project," they had to do it in less than four and a half minutes.

After the first violent retch I found that some one had purchased the piano from a church for $25.

How often would a person who would use the piano for its true purpose, namely, playing it, get a chance to have one for $25? Not often. I would have been glad to give the church that much to be able to sit down and pick out a tune once in a while.

AWS Plans to Hold Potluck For Mothers

Associated Women Students of CBC will sponsor a potluck for mothers, Feb. 14, 6-8 p.m.

"We'll have mouth watering food," said Penny Jones, AWS president, "and we want to give all our mothers a treat to remember."

For entertainment, Judy Wahl and Charlotte Dietrick will talk and show slides of their trip with a symphony orchestra to Europe last summer.

Maureen Smith is general chairman of the potluck.

High Society

It's too bad that the state law forbids the construction or use of community college dorms.

CBC dorms would give a great boost to student morale and school spirit; they would be a self-contained society of intelligent people.

For entertainment students now have only public dances, private parties and an occasional school function.

The public snake pits, i.e. dances, are out of the dark ages. Entering the door of the dance hall, one has an overwhelming glimpse of the interior of the hall of the mountain king. The king and his court stand on a dias, torturing some electronic oddities which produce a noise that would terrify an Ostrogoth, while the gnomes claw their way up the nether wall. Also, the citizens of this lower Hell have the gift of poisonous speech. If one lets it grate on the ear for any time, it affects the senses much as green beer, producing a nauseous stupor.

Private parties are worse. A professional pick pocket stands at the door and lifts all valuables, which are traded in at the nearest tavern for enough beer to befuddle an army of Franks, with enough left over to float the kitchen tables.

If the student is smart, he immediately gets falling down drunk, a state in which he can enjoy the ensuing fistfights, appreciate the supernatural of disappearing and reappearing guests and the peacefulness of a sound slumber.

CBC dorms would rescue the students from this social agony by providing a center for student activities. They would unite the student body, now a scattered group, into one large organization.

School spirit and pride in the school would increase.

Sister Buys Books

(ACP)—Sister Florence Feeney, O.S.B., is back at Mount St. Scholastica College, Atchison, Kansas, after a successful book-buying tour for the school library.

The Mount Mirror, campus newspaper, says she found the prices of books very reasonable in Europe. Although she also visited Ireland, France, Italy and Switzerland, she bought the most books in London since "They had what I wanted and they were having a book sale."

Speed Traps Set to Stop Hotrodding

SPEED TRAP: It's less expensive than radar. Understood that students are hotrodding through the city and disturbing the peace, so they recommended the maintenance department determents be established. Gary Hansen, director of ASB activities, said, "The council had suggested speed traps to slow down the hot rods which are currently serving the purpose of determents; they did want determents; they did want determents," Starkey said.

HANSEN said he heard the council had decided to try speed traps. His experiment led him to believe that the holes in the pavement are dangerous by any means. He could fill the same holes if they were filled in. He thinks the maintenance department will probably pave the holes later on, but it is up to that department," Hansen said.

Students Vote For Royalty

Six men and six women look forward to the announcement of the royalty of the freshman class winter formal, Feb. 8. The candidates were nominated at a meeting last Tuesday, and voting took place this week.

Students voted for one male candidate and one female candidate. Those nominees receiving the most votes will be king and queen. The two runners-up will be princes and princesses.

Women candidates are Gerry Wheat, Vicky Smith, JoAnn Precechtel, Diane Grunwald, Cecil Ruiz, and Susan Warren. Men candidates are Tony Diana, John Stockamp, Dean Heiling, Bob Wells, John Kinsey and Nick Warrick.

Blind Co-eds Are Happy

(ACP)—Judy Boston, sociology freshman,, and Burdie Lowe, music sophomore, are roommates at Northeastern State College, Tahlequah, Okla. The Northeastern says: Although blind, the coeds insist they are like everyone else; they wash, iron, sew and do their own hair.

Judy comments: "We are happy. We don't feel sorry for ourselves. We don't want pity."

But both coeds have to admit there is one way in which they must be considered different from other students. They can't dodge sprinklers.

Constitution Amended

The constitution of Washington State, adopted in 1889, has had 35 amendments.

WSU, CWSC Panels To Discuss Problems

George E. Haas, guidance counselor, announced that representatives from Central Washington State College at Ellensburg would be present on Monday, February 10, for student discussion.

Representatives from Washington State University at Pullman will be available Thursday afternoon, February 13, and all of Friday.

The representatives will discuss transferring problems and possible adjustments the students could make in their spring quarter schedule here at CBC.

MR. HAAS said that the university has not yet planned for similar representatives, but they might be expected during the spring. He urged all students who were planning to attend either institution next school year to be present at one of the two discussion meetings.

* * *

Mr. Haas also announced that registration for the spring quarter would start February 26, and that students should see their advisors as early as February 18.

"We are going to be very strict with those students who have not taken the grade prediction test," Mr. Haas said. For those students who have not taken the Washington Grade Prediction Test, Math 101 and English 101 will be closed."

THE NEXT testing date is Friday, February 21, in the Pasco High School Cafeteria. Those interested in taking the test should contact Mr. Haas. "As far as I know," Mr. Haas said, "this is the last testing before the spring quarter starts."

CBC Frosh Will Meet City Team

The CBC frosh won seven straight ball games in the last nine starts. They will be going after the eighth next Tuesday night when Hoopers Electric from the city league face-off with the Hawklets.

CBC's first two frosh games were defeats. Tuesday the Frosh downed Frank's Grill, 69-61, in the Centralia preliminary.

Probable starters for next Tuesday night's encounter will be Nate Hair and Stan Chalich at forward, Don Detrick and Bob Hale at guard and centers Harold Ensor or Randy Schoers.

Dick Brown will probably be ready to go in one of those slots, but if not, reserves will take his place. Brown sprained a wrist in last week's game and hasn't played varsity or jayvee since.

CBC Matmen To Host LC

Columbia Basin College wrestling team will host its third of five straight home matches tomorrow afternoon, when Lower Columbia invades the Hawk mats in the gymnasium at 3:30 p. m.

Maintaining a four-win, one-loss, no-tie record, the CBC matmen will be facing a team that beat them earlier this season, 21-11. LC was the only team last year that put a 14-14 tie on the Hawks' unbeaten record.

Heavyweight Larry Gehrman has the best individual record on Coach Bob Graham's squad, holding a 5-0-0 mark. Gehrman defends a 14-0 1963 record and a state championship.

NEXT BEST record is held by Rich Birch, 147-pounder from Beaverton, Oregon, also a returning letterman who had a 11-1 season in 1963. He is 4-0-1 to date.

Jake Lye, a 123-pounder, returns from 1963 with a 7-1-2 record and thus far is undefeated in two starts. Nick Peterson, 177-pound reserve, holds a 2-1-0 record.

The absence of two grapplers last week allowed reserve starters Mike Hogue, 157, and Dave Erickson, 167, to take to the mats. Each lost his match.

The rest of the starting lineup was crippled somewhat, 14-13, going into the final match.

It was Gehrman's turn, and that's just what he did—turned a potential loss into a victory, by a 3:31 pin over Gary Atchison of Big Bend.

IT WAS another close one for the Hawk wrestlers, winning by just one decision, one pin and two forfeits; but it was more so for Big Bend, as CBC yielded just three decisions and one pin to the visitors.

The Hawks have four matches left on the slate—next two at home, following two on the road—before the State Meet at Skagit March 3.

Next week CBC hosts Skagit, where they took second place in the state meet last season. Skagit is a newcomer on the schedule. February 15, Yakima comes to Pasco in a return match. CBC won 17-15 — that other close bout — on the Indian's mats. Skagit and Big Bend, respectively, are the two remaining road trips for the Hawks.

Ski Team To Compete

Phil Hitchcock, CBC ski team coach, has announced that the club's Alpine Racing Team will enter inter-collegiate competition at Spout Springs tomorrow.

The team has been training weekends at both Spout Springs and White Pass. Hitchcock said, "With the competition at Spout Springs coming from colleges in this area, I think we have a good chance for a fine showing."

The second racing competition this year will be at the Winter Carnival at Bend, Oregon, February 21-23.

The Ski Club, at Wednesday's meeting, plans to have a series of demonstrations on the care of equipment.

Boat Show Starts Tonight; Water Ski Club To Show

This year's Tri-City Boat Show at the Pasco Armory will have more than just boats and motors on display. The show starts tonight at 7 p. m.

The Tri-City Water Ski Club plays its role in this annual event by showing continuous films on water skiing, purchased from the water ski capital of the world, Cypress Gardens.

Besides the films that will be shown, a complete line of every type of water ski equipment will be on display. This year a new one added to the collection arrived from a manufacturer's house—and will make its public appearance.

Applications for membership in the ski club and various pamphlets on waterskiing are available there, too.

CBC Intra-mural Sports Program Exercises Amateurs and Athletes

Intra-mural sports are the answer for the all-around amateur or the athlete in his off season.

The men and women's intra-mural program is scheduled weekly by the CBC coaching staff. During the fall quarter, Jim Rodgers is the advisor, and during the winter, Dwight Pool has the program.

This spring a softball team may be formed if there is enough response, but the problem now is arousing enough interest for the intra-mural program this quarter. This only exists in the men's department. However, more women are urged to participate in that program.

EVERY WEEK there are only enough men players in the basketball section to form two separate teams. Coach Pool would like to see a league started. Perhaps clubs on campus could each sponsor a team.

Volleyball has the same problem. No badminton has been played this quarter, but the facilities are available. Weight-training is an individual sport that can be done in a group to the advantage of the participants, since competition increases morale and overall progress. There are only a few men exercising every week in this department.

It would be a shame if the I-M program dropped the school's extra-curricular activities. Coaches, as present participants, who haven't engaged in the program so far, to enjoy this recreation.

See the calendar for time and place of meeting.

FROM the DESK

OF ED GIRVAN
Collegiate Sports Editor

If all newspapermen were perfect in their writing it would not be necessary for them to issue retractions. However, mistakes and errors do occur.

In last week's edition, there was a headline printed that should not have been. It read, "Tonights Match is First of Five at Home, and was to be scheduled at 3:30 in the CBC gymnasium. The Big Bend meet was last Saturday morning in the gymnasium. This big blunder has now been corrected, only one week too late.

Ironical Boomerang —According to the first paragraph of last week's sports feature, Abbass Gheysarieh was a misspelled American name. However, that mistake was an error, as his name appeared correctly in the rest of that story.

HIDE-A-WAY HOLDOVERS

Several of the axes used to smash that "Symphony Grand" went to pieces before some of the piano did. It must have been a case of weak handles. Nobody would ever know that there was a Hide-A-Way located in uptown Richland, if it wasn't for that C & H Food Market neon on the front of the building.

Before the spectacle started, everybody clustered around, but it didn't take long after the chopping started for the audience to move back without request. I don't know about you, but I bet if the CBC craze crashers had another crack at it, they'd break the world record of 4½ minutes. Remember, it took them only three to bust everything but the clock. What's another piano through the hole!

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS (First-In-A-Series)

Q. Can a dent be removed from the barrel of a gun?
A. Yes, you can push the dent outward, then ream and polish the barrel. The external part of the barrel will probably always show the dent unless it is what now?

MATMEN'S MEANDERINGS

Bob True, cross-country coach, has acted as official timer of the matches and is doing a good job. Jake Stappler is referee.

How many varsity hours of wrestling in one season? If you stop and figure that out, here's the way it might add up. Average of two hours per match, ten matches overall this year, so that's twenty total hours. Each nine-minute match averages out to fifteen minutes per weight division, and there are eight of them. Of course, if you want to count daily practice sessions, in addition to individual bouts, it can get quite complicated. Any one want to take that one on?

WHAT NOW: Nike, CBC's mascot hawk, resides at Chiana Zoo. However, the zoo will soon be sold. No one seems to know what will happen to Nike.

Pyne Says '64 Season Looks Slim

CBC baseball coach Len Pyne says that the 1964 baseball season looks rather slim for the Hawks. Of the Hawks who made the 1963 Washington State Northern Division All-Star team, all five are gone.

They were:

1. Bud Hare—2nd base and now at Idaho State.
2. Bob Stokes—outfielder now at Seattle Pacific.
3. Andy Cleveland—catcher now at Oregon State.
4. Joe Rose—pitcher.
5. George Bettineski—outfielder now at Seattle University.

Other standouts last year were:

1. Reserve pitcher Mike Miltonberger now at Lewis-Clark Normal.
2. Brian Sinnerud—3rd base, now at Linefield, Oregon.
3. Al Jacques—catcher, now at Seattle Pacific.
4. George Thompson—pitcher now at Oregon State.
5. Len Capps—pitcher, at CBC, but not eligible because of two years already, will transfer.

- Five returning lettermen:
1. Pete Migun, Bend, Oregon, first base.
 2. Dick Myers, Eugene, Oregon, outfield.
 3. Kurt Larson, Bend, Oregon, outfield.
 4. Jim Spencer, Richland, outfield.
 5. Phil Martel, Kennewick, shortstop.
- Others coming:
1. Bill Wilkie, If., pitcher, of Seattle.
 2. Bill Heath, infield, Sunset,

- Oregon.
3. Doug Russ on frosh last year.
 4. Jim Chubb, pitcher, bad arm at CBC.
- "Fairly inexperienced," commented Coach Len Pyne. Workouts start the first of March.

CACOPHONY: CBC students Milt Stout, Norm Gilson, Dennis Kiley and Fred Worthing broke an upright piano into parts small enough to go through a six inch hole in six minutes. They were attempting to break the national record of four minutes and thirty seconds. It took the men two minutes to break up the cast iron peg board. The event was held Saturday night at the Hideaway in Richland.

Blocking Proves Tedious

The cast of "The Taming of The Shrew" is passing through the most tedious phase of play production, blocking.

This work requires the participants to wait as the director examines each movement, making sure that it will be possible in the type of stage and the performance used in the production, then act out the revised part again.

After blocking, the cast passes into polishing rehearsals where the actors smooth out their performance by doing the complete play.

POLISHING REHEARSALS are followed by mounting rehearsals. In this phase, the actors move the performance from classrooms and perform on the actual stage to be used in the performance. Then they are ready for the audience performance.

While this process of creating a play goes on, the set designers are working at night, building the set that will be used in the performance. Jess Howard, stage manager, is in charge of this task, and is assisted by Mike Connor, Flip Thomson, Cliff Dearborn and Dennis Cooper.

Students in sewing classes make the costumes used in the play. Laurie Eberhardt, costuming, said, "Since the play will be done in the arena style, giving the audience a rather close look at the costumes, they must be made of satin, velvet and silk."
